Two years after the adoption of the New York Declaration, new approaches in refugee response are emerging and being rolled out. Non-governmental organizations (NGOs) have been actively engaged in the inclusive, multi-stakeholder process linked to implementing the comprehensive refugee response framework and developing the global compact on refugees. Based on a broad range of experience, NGOs will provide reflections and concrete proposals on how to harness the full potential of the global compact, particularly in areas where they can best contribute to future refugee response and international cooperation.
